ANNAH RAIS BIDAYUH LONGHOUSE (Duration: 4 hours+)

(Immediate effect until 31 December 2019)

(Includes: All guided tour, entrance fee, and 1 bottle drinking water)

Bidayuh, the second largest ethnic group in Sarawak, is formerly known as the 'Land Dayak' and was once also known as the 'Engineer of Bamboo'. When visiting the Bidayuh longhouse, you will be able to see the splendid architecture of their longhouse, which were build mostly by bamboo.

Annah Rais is one of the most famous Bidayuh longhouse in Sarawak, which located about 100 km east from Kuching City. The excursion will take about one and a half-hour on the road. During your visit, you will also be able to view the villagers with their own daily routine like rice pounding and winnowing, basket and mat weaving and bamboo carving. You will also see the most unique and important structure, the 'Baruk' or the head house, which situated in front of the longhouse. Villagers once used this as a fort to protect the whole village from being attack. Inside the 'Baruk', you will be able to view the real human skulls hanging around the fire place in the middle and the also their sacred war drum.
